M.B.C. Church Erect Bible College.

Donations Asked Towards Furnishing.

No doubt by this time the citizens of Didsbury and surrounding community are all aware of the fact that a real Bible school building is going to be erected on the M.B.C. camp ground. The well drillers are at work, and the basement is nearly excavated. If weather conditions are favorable and circumstances permit the building will be ready for the school opening on Nov. 1 of this year.

We are conscious of the fact that the blessing of the Lord is resting on the undertaking and we trust this school shall be of great value not only to the young people but to the work of the Lord in general throughout the province, regardless of denomination.

We thank you for your donations towards this worthy cause. We are not planning on finishing the interior of the building this year, apart from that which is absolutely necessary, for warmth and comfort. But while there are some things one can do without, there are other things we must have to start with. For instance, each room must be furnished with a bed, a study table, a dresser or stand and chair or two.

Perhaps there is in your attic or shed, a table or an old dresser, which is practically of no use to you any longer, because it has been replaced by something new or more modern and you have wondered what to do with it. It may be just what we need for the school and you may wish to donate it. There are other things such as rugs, cupboards, or sideboard, dishes, etc., just filling space in your homes, and this would be a fine way to dispose of them.

If you have anything which you think might be of use to the building by way of furnishing, do not hesitate to speak to Mrs. Will Finlay about it. Thanking you all again for your kindly interest,

I am
Yours, L. Eby.

FORM A BRITISH PEACE LEAGUE TO END ALL STRIKES

London.—A new organization called the Industrial Peace League of the British Empire has been founded, it is announced, to bring about industrial good fellowship between employers and workmen in Great Britain and eventually to establish a five-year truce between capital and labor.

In this way the promoters of the new organization hope to eliminate both strikes and lockouts.

The leading spirit on the Labor side is J. Havelock Wilson, veteran president of the National Seamen's Union.

Sir Frederick Lewis, banker and shipowner, is mentioned for the chairmanship, and Frank Hodges, former secretary of the British Miners' Federation, for the post of secretary. Among the objects of the new organization are loyalty to Great Britain, the sanctity of contracts, the right to work and the stamping out of the doctrine of class war. It is considered unfortunate for the prospects of the new society that both Wilson and Hodges are now discredited among the rank and file of British trade unionists, since both are regarded as standing too much to the right.

France To Retrench

Will Cut Down Wheat Importations By 28,000,000 Bushels

Paris.—Cutting down wheat importation to the extent of 28,000,000 bushels this ensuing year is one of the first economies the government announces as part of the nation's retrenchment programme. Dr. Andre Queuille, minister of agriculture, told the cabinet that by increasing the percentage of whole wheat in flour, the country could dispense with 5,000,000 bushels this coming year. A further saving of 23,000,000 bushels could be effected by the obligatory use of ten per cent. of other cereals in bread making.

This is the first of a series of measures intended to reduce the French entreaty for living to be placed before the cabinet. Other similar economies will be considered along this line.

Sowing More Winter Wheat

U. S. Farmers Plan Larger Acreage For This Fall

Washington, D.C.—Farmers are intending to sow this fall an acreage of winter wheat 14.4 per cent. greater than sown last fall, which would mean a total acreage of 45,064,000 acres or about four per cent. more than shown by intentions a year ago, the department of agriculture announced.

If average annual abandonment should occur this winter, it would leave from the intended sowings about 39,274,000 acres for harvest next summer, an increase of 7 per cent.

Anti-Foreign Outbreaks

Paris.—Anti-foreign demonstrations in Paris, hitherto aimed to a great extent against American and British visitors, were recently directed against Poles and Czechoslovakians. Crockery and glassware were broken when an angry French crowd attacked tourists from Poland and Czechoslovakia in a restaurant. No Americans or Britishers were involved.

May Remove Boots

Austin, Texas.—If men passengers on Texas railroads wish to ride in their stocking feet, they may do so without interference from the Texas railroad commission. The commission declined to act on a petition signed by a woman demanding a rule that men be prohibited from removing their shoes, boots or sandals in railroad passenger coaches.

Fire Fighters Found

Vernon, B.C.—Reports from Trinity Valley say that three fire fighters, lost for two days in the woods in that district, reached the ranch of Walter Remberry, where they were given food and shelter and later taken to Lumby.

Dirigible Norge Reaches Seattle

Seattle, Wash.—Stowed in a hold of the freighter, Tanana, among 50,000 cases of canned salmon, the dismantled dirigible, Norge, arrived here from Teller, Alaska, enroute to Rome.

Plan Department Store Chain

Company to Operate String of Stores From Coast to Coast

Toronto.—Twenty-two department stores of Canada with appraised assets of about $10,000,000 are included in a new company, Canadian Department Stores, Limited, which is being formed by the Municipal Bankers' Corporation of Toronto, according to The Toronto Telegram.

"Ultimate intention is to expand and enlarge the chain until it reaches from coast to coast in Canada. Sir William Heistr is president of the banking Company, and Sir John Willison is vice-president." The Telegram states. "This merger of interests is being effected in such a manner that there will not be any immediate issue of securities of any kind to the public of this country. Average number of years in business of shops taken over is 41 years. Two important businesses, one in Montreal and one in Hamilton, will be included in the list, but their names are not yet mentioned."

Big Game Hunters Dine

Duke of York Among Number Who Met in London

London.—Thirty of the world's most famous big game hunters, with the Duke of York and the Earl of Lonsdale among their number, dined together in London recently.

It was one of the rare gatherings of the Shikar Club, an exclusive private club formed some years ago by Lord Lonsdale. Membership of the club is confined to redoubtable Shikaris—men who have sought after big game beyond the edge of civilization.

The King, who has shot more than a score of tigers, is the honorary president of the club.

Cowboys Are Injured

Accidents Occur to Mar Stampede Held at Ottawa

Ottawa.—Three western cowboys were injured at the stampede being staged here in connection with the capital's centenary celebration.

Ray Miller, of Cheadle, Alta., sustained a smashed elbow when thrown by a broncho; Basil Allard, Hardisty, Alta., suffered concussion of the brain in a similar manner; and Don Holt, Miles City, Mont., was gored by a wild steer in the bull-dogging contest. All three were reported as progressing favorably toward recovery.

Fire In Swedish Mine

Several of Largest Buildings Destroyed At Kiruna

Stockholm.—The world's most northerly mining centre, Kiruna, located far above the Arctic circle in Swedish Lapland, has been swept by fire. Several of the community's largest buildings were destroyed, one fireman killed, and $250,000 damage done.

The destruction was increased by the explosion of a depot of dynamite, kept for the blasting of Kuruvaara, the mountain nearby, which consists of iron ore.

SAYS U. S. IS LEADING WORLD INTO A NEW ERA

Roanoke Island, N.C.—Belief that the United States is leading the world into a new era and better way of life that ultimately will bring "a great spiritual rebirth" and thereby universal peace—for which all men in all countries are truly longing today—was expressed by Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador to the United States. He was the speaker at the anniversary of the birthday of Virginia Dare, first white child born in the American colony.

"The new message that I think America of today is giving the world is that the lives of men are more than mere goods and that peace and contentment are more than mere wealth. America's great contribution to the world progress is its human policy in industry, and you have learned the gospel of high wages, as it has been called, and you have applied it and showed the world that it works," Sir Esme said. The material development of this country was set aside by Sir Esme as "a secondary matter."

Passenger Plane Wrecked

Flight From Paris to London Ends in Disaster

London.—Encountering a heavy fog along the English coast, a big French passenger plane, on a flight from Paris to London, met disaster near Folkestone.

Two of the passengers were killed, one of them reported to have been Robert Blainey, Boston, Mass.; the other thought to be an Italian.

The Victoria Hospital at Folkestone, to which nine injured, six of them United States citizens, were transferred, reported that all of them there were 13 passengers on board. None of them escaped injury.

The primary cause of the disaster is presumed to have been engine trouble, for, upon seeking lower levels in the fog to find her bearings, the big machine swerved suddenly and dropped swiftly. It struck the top of a barn.

Conditions Quiet In Russia

Polish Minister to Moscow Says Country is Orderly

Warsaw.—Complete order reigns in Soviet Russia, according to Mr. Kentzynski, Polish minister to Moscow.

who has arrived in Warsaw on leave of absence from his post. The minister says that stories about conditions in Russia printed in the European press frequently, are far removed from the truth. As to reported conflicts among the Communists, he remarked that the dissensions among the communists are no graver than divergencies that exist elsewhere in cabinets or government parties.

Competitors Of League

Facts Among European Countries Are Second Line of Defence

Williamstown, Mass.—Regional agreements being made between nations in Europe representing a continuation of the balance of power policy is tending to undermine the foundation of the League of Nations, J. Pelenyl, counsellor of the Royal Hungarian legation, told the Institute of Politics.

He represented these agreements as competitors or "side shows" of the League of Nations. Referring to the agreement known as the "Little Entente" between Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia and Rumania against Hungary, M. Pelenyl said the latter country found it difficult to understand why the first three countries, whose forces were individually superior to Hungary's, should form an alliance manifestly in opposition to Hungary.

Recent rapprochments among the central European countries indicate that the new alignments are not necessarily along belligerent lines, he said, but their establishment as a "second line of defence in case the league goes smash" hardly indicates a bona-fide trust in the efficacy of the league.

Delay In the Mails

Letter Takes 35 Years to Travel 200 Miles

Toronto.—Thirty-five years ago a friend of Mrs. J. T. Marshall, wife of the pastor of a local Baptist Church, wrote to her from Glen Rae, Lambton County, Ontario. The letter has just arrived here, having taken 35 years to travel less than 200 miles. Evidently it had rested in the dead letter office for the greater part of that time. Stamped on the front of the envelope was the date "October 22, '91," and on the back "Toronto, Ont., Oct. 27, '91." Mrs. Marshall was attending the Toronto normal school at that time.

Lady Strathcona Dead

Was Daughter of Former High Commissioner For Canada

London.—Lady Strathcona and Mount Royal, daughter of the late Lord Strathcona, a former high commissioner for Canada, is dead in her 73rd year.

Lady Strathcona was Mrs. Margaret C. Howard, receiving her title on the death of her father in London, in 1914. Her father, Sir Donald Alexander Smith, later raised to the barony, played a prominent part in Canada, for many years, during the last century, becoming a member of parliament in the Canadian House of Commons and later being appointed high commissioner in Britain for the Dominion.

Jap Prince Climbs Wetterhorn

Geneva.—Prince Chichibu, second son of the emperor of Japan, has successfully climbed the Wetterhorn, which is more than 12,000 feet in altitude. Several European Alpinists have been killed in the Alps recently.

TO ARRANGE FOR BIG WHEAT POOL MEETING SOON

Winnipeg.—Representatives of the principal wheat growers' organizations of the United States and the Canadian wheat pools met in Winnipeg as a provisional committee to arrange for the World Wheat Pool conference to be held here some time next winter. Matters relating to data to be submitted to the delegates, proposed methods of organization and other preliminary business was under consideration. It was pointed out that H. W. Wood, president of the Alberta Wheat Pool, was now in Australia, and that W. J. Jackman, director of the Saskatchewan pool, was proceeding to Buenos Aires, to arouse the wheat producers of these countries to the importance and value of the pools to the farmers.

The activities of the Canadian wheat pool were detailed and spokesmen predicted that the pools would handle about 80 per cent. of the prairie wheat crop this season.

Says Flag Dispute Has Been Exaggerated

Matter Will Blow Over Assets South African Trade Commissioner

Winnipeg.—"I personally have no fear of violent repercussions as a result of the flag controversy. It will all blow over in time," declared E. H. Louw, trade commissioner in Canada and the United States for the government of the Union of South Africa, interviewed here.

Mr. Louw pointed out that Sir William Campbell, president of the South African section of the British Empire Service League, and Captain Jordan, president of the Capetown section of the league, had openly, in the press, supported the government in its flag policy.

"This controversy," he said, "has been greatly exaggerated."

To Foster Balkan Peace

Pact Between Greece and Rumania Now in Prospect

Athens, Greece.—A friendship pact between Greece and Rumania similar to the one just signed between Greece and Jugoslavia, is now in prospect for the furtherance of peace in the Balkans. It has been authoritatively stated.

It is expected another agreement between Greece and Turkey, settling important political and economic matters, will be signed soon.

The government has stated that military provisions may later be added to the Greco-Slav friendship treaty which has still to be ratified by the respective parliaments of the two countries.

Col. By Monument

Ottawa.—The corner stone for the monument to the memory of Col. By, founder of Bytown, which later became Ottawa, was unveiled here as the noon gun sounded from Parliament Hill. The monument will be just south of Connaught place, the central plaza of the city by the side of the Rideau canal, the construction of which he directed a century ago.

Seize Ex-Greek Premier

Athens, Greece.—Papanastasian, former premier and leader of the Democratic party, has been arrested. He was arrested in connection with a political plot early in the present year and was banished, but several months later President Pangalos ordered his liberation.

Will Ban Liquor Ads

New York.—All foreign magazines containing liquor advertising will be barred from the United States if a tentative ruling by Edward S. Barnes, acting solicitor of the customs house here, is sustained.

C.N.R. Gross Earnings

Montreal.—The gross earnings of the C.N.R. for week ended August 14, 1926, were $4,921,089 as compared with $4,700,169 for the same week of 1925, an increase of $220,920, or five per cent.

Studies 3000-Family Scheme

The Earl of Clarendon, under-secretary of state for the dominions in Great Britain, with the Countess of Clarendon and their three children, are touring Canada at the present time. His lordship is investigating the conditions under which the 3,000-family immigration scheme from Great Britain is working out in this country. He has interviewed some 25 of these families and will see a number more in various sections of the country and of these he reports that "I have not found a single malcontent." All are satisfied with their lot and seem to be thoroughly happy and prosperous in their new surroundings. The Earl of Clarendon and Hon. Nicho

Get Full Value from Your Tractor

The amount of carbon deposited by lubricating oil when it burns in the cylinders of a tractor is directly dependent upon the amount of carbon it contains.

Marvelube, the new golden-colored mineral Tractor Oil, successfully combats carbon because it contains only the merest trace.

Months of rigid laboratory tests and a long series of severe service tests under the most unfavorable operating conditions have proved conclusively that Marvelube possesses this amazing property to such a remarkable degree that it will eliminate carbon troubles if proper care is taken in its use and the correct grade used at all times.

Marvelube is made from a selected grade of Peruvian Crude Oil—the world's richest lubricant base. It is refined by the Marvelube Process, which is a new and entirely different method of refining oil, developed and perfected after four years of research and experiment by Imperial Oil Limited.

By the Marvelube process, the original low carbon content of Peruvian Crude Oil is further reduced to the merest trace in the finished product.

The very small amount of carbon that is formed by Marvelube is such a soft and flakey nature that it is readily expelled by the exhaust, leaving the cylinder walls, pistons, bearings and all friction surfaces clean and perfectly lubricated, even after a long grind of steady operation.

In addition to this almost carbonless quality, Marvelube is superior in every other respect to any other motor oil ever produced.

It holds its body and maintains its oil film at high engine temperatures that could break down other oils. It remains a fluid, with full lubricating value, at low temperatures that stiffen and congeal the best of other brands.

Steady use of the right grade of Marvelube will give your tractor increased power and work capacity and cut operating expenses to a surprising degree.

Try Marvelube and you will find it lives up to every claim made for it. Now, while the season is young, is the time for you to cash in on the benefits that this new oil has brought to power farming.

THERE is a fresh unfolding of the wonders of nature in the new scenic area opened up by the Lake Louise-Field Highway through the mountains. The glories of the Yoho National Park in British Columbia, the Yoho Valley and Emerald Lake are now accessible to the motor world. This latest achievement is the completion of a motor highway across the famous Kicking Horse Pass in the central Rockies.

From Lake Louise, the gem of the Rockies, the road proceeds west through avenues of pine and fir, up to the Great Divide at Stephens. By easy grades the motorist glides down to Lake Wapta, the centre of a romantic and picturesque region. The descent continues through the Kicking Horse Pass to the Yoho Valley. Here, in British Columbia, a part of the abandoned right of way is used and some of the finest scenery in the world is unrolled. There is a marvellous view of the Yoho Valley ending in its glistening glacier.

Winding down the side of Mt. Stephen, the traveller comes to the flats and Kicking Horse River, between Mount Stephen and Mount Field. On the face of Mt. Stephen can be seen, a few hundred feet above, the opening to the silver-lead mine, which is reached from the flats, by a winding trail. This mine, opened in 1885, is unique in its operation and in its situation, on the side of a grim mountain. It is worth the effort of a trip up the incline and offers fine opportunity for the amateur climber.

Driving along the river flats, the trains can be seen, many feet above, winding their way along the side of the Cathedral mountain. Down the river valley, the new road connects with the existing motor road which reaches eight miles up the Yoho Valley to Takakkaw Falls. The euphonious Indian name, meaning, "It is wonderful," well describes the beauties of the ribbon of water, with a fall of 200 feet, in clouds of foam. Another branching, tree-lined avenue leads to Emerald lake, a distance of seven miles. This lake, of exquisite coloring, lies placid under the protection of Mounts Wapta, Burgess and President, and affords fine fishing.

At Field, the natural bridge is one of the points of interest. A road is under construction from this junction to the western boundary of Yoho park. Then it will be linked up with a highway now being built from Golden.

These roads will give the motorist a scenic loop, probably without parallel in the world, which will include the finest scenery in the Rockies. From the prairies, by way of Banff and Lake Louise, down to Field and Golden, the road turns south by way of the Columbia, to Windermere valley. Through its western gateway to the Banff-Windermere road, the return to Banff and on to the Prairies, is made.

The Banff-Windermere highway is already connected on the west, by the Columbia River road, with the 4600 loop, known as the Grand Circle tour, which stretches down the Pacific coast to southern California and returns by way of Arizona, Utah, Wyoming and Montana. The whole highway touches, throughout its length, ten national parks in the United States and Canada. The beauties of the Canadian section, so recently opened to the world, are rich in promise for the motorist.

Printed Frocks the Vogue For All Occasions

Fashion—more practical than we give her credit for—has given her smart endorsement to the frock of printed material. For luncheon and afternoon wear, the model pictured here is smart, and not too dressy, and may be fashioned of crepe de chine, rayon or cotton voile. The frock is straight in line except for the flared sections set in at the sides, which are very full at the lower edge, and a scarf collar tying on the left shoulder. Long, loose sleeves are set into the armholes. No. 1307 is in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust. Size 38 bust requires 3½ yards 39-inch figured material; the collar ¾ yard contrasting cut crosswise. Price 20 cents.

Home sewing brings nice clothes within the reach of all, and to follow the mode is delightful when it can be done so easily and economically by following the styles pictured in our new Fashion Book. A chart accompanying each pattern shows the material as it appears when cut out. Every detail is explained so that the inexperienced sewer can make without difficulty an attractive dress. Price of the book 10 cents the copy.

Canadian Development
(By C. W. Peterson)

It would be well for Canada to take stock of herself, her resources and her institutions and commence to formulate national aims in keeping with her peculiar conditions and limitations. Have we, for instance, any rational ideas in respect to our population requirements? Should we aim at the status of Russia with 15 per cent. urban and 85 per cent. rural population, or should we strive to reach the standard of the United States with 67 per cent. urban and 33 per cent. rural population? At what point lies the normal equilibrium for Canada? Obviously, such questions as these must be answered approximately before we can attempt to construct intelligent, rational development policies. Some years ago an "Economic Commission" was created by our Federal Government to give us the answer. It never made a report and died on the job!

Thinking persons can, however, all agree on one point, namely, that our present agricultural population is ridiculously out of proportion to the vast area of our agricultural lands, east as well as west, fairly fit for settlement. There can be no manner of doubt that this condition must be remedied as promptly as humanly possible. It constitutes, in fact, our great, national tragedy. As was suggested at the last Dominion Boards of Trade conference, Canada's best brains should be commandeered for public service and focused on correcting this topsy-turvy, uneconomic state of affairs, because we can have no lasting prosperity until increased agricultural production overtakes our present greatly over-extended industrial, governmental and transportation plants.

There is, however, a deplorable absence of intelligent opinion in Canada on the vital question of colonization. Important occupational groups are at present even in violent hostility to public expenditure in this direction, their judgment being founded largely on superficial premises. The press of Canada has a patriotic task to perform in bringing the actual facts before their readers and creating a vigorous and militant public opinion on this issue. Because governments in democratic countries move only in obedience to the will of the people, the initiative, therefore, must come from the great body of Canadian citizens rather than from their government.

Prince May Open Building

New Canadian Hostel in Paris Is Almost Completed

A visit of the Prince of Wales to Paris is now under consideration. It is understood he promised two years ago that, if possible, he would open the hostel which is now almost completed for the accommodation of Canadian students in the Cite Universitaire in Paris. This has been designed to accommodate 50 Canadian students at a cost of approximately 2,600,000 francs, given for the purpose by Senator Joseph M. Wilson, of Montreal. Hostels planned for French students, both men and women, and obviously inspired by Oxford colleagues, were opened last autumn. The Cite Universitaire, when completed, will be one of the most interesting groups of academic buildings in Europe. The buildings are being erected on the spot where the old fortifications of the city of Paris stood. Out of the 22,000 students now at the university, 3,300 come from other countries.

Modern Advertising

Is Much Less Expensive Than Older Methods of Selling

The old indictment that advertising adds to the cost of goods has been quashed by experience. Advertising is a machine to aid in distribution. The public never questions the cost of a machine in a manufacturer's plant which adds to volume production. If the public didn't pay for the new machine it would pay for the most costly hand labor. No more is the machine of modern advertising wisely employed, a subject of query and speculation as to cost.

It takes the place of older, more expensive methods of selling and distribution.—World's Work.

Luck may come and luck may go, but real merit hangs on forever.

Notable Revival In Trade

Business Activity in Canada is Maintained At a High Level

Stimulated by the profitable marketing of the excellent crops of 1925 and by the prosperous conditions in the United States during recent months, business activity in Canada was maintained at a high level during the first half of 1926. Construction was especially active from April to June, the contracts awarded in May reaching a record for all time. Revenue car loadings were also greater in the second quarter, when allowance is made for seasonal variation. The primary iron and steel industry operated at a comparatively high level of activity with orders from the railways and construction industry. Industrial employment showed significant improvement during the first half of the year, attaining on June 1 and July 1 a higher level than on the corresponding dates of any year since 1920.

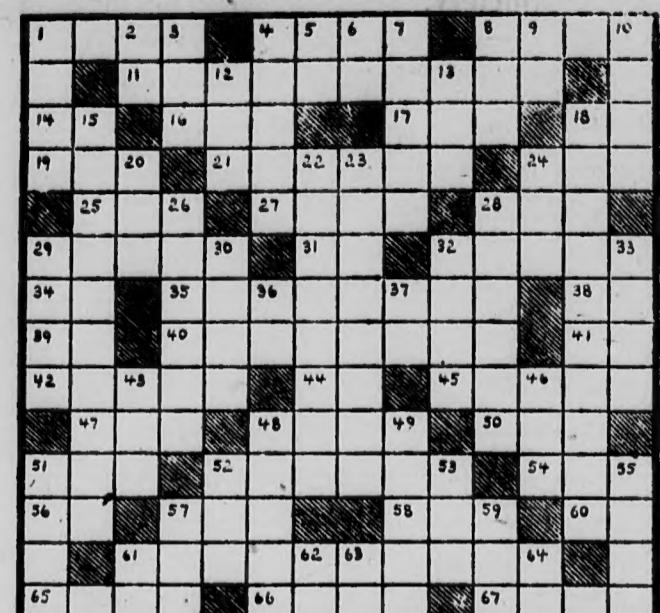

Following the pronounced expansion recorded at the beginning of June, there was a further important increase in employment on July 1, when the payrolls of 5,898 operating firms aggregated 850,718 persons, or 20,659 more than in the preceding month. These additions to staff exceed those reported on the corresponding date of any previous year and the index of employment, at 103.7, now stands higher than in any other month since 1920. With the exception of logging, in which there was a seasonal decline, all groups of industries reported improvement, that in construction being the most extensive.

Treatment with Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil will allay the inflammation and in consequence the cough will usually stop. Try it and you will be satisfied.

Huge Production For Population

The density of population in the prairie provinces is only 2.5 persons per square mile, yet these provinces in 1925 produced 388,433,000 bushels of wheat, 322,354,000 bushels of oats, 94,141,000 bushels of barley and 13,545,000 bushels of rye, besides other crops. In comparison, the United Kingdom has 329 persons per square mile.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS: DUTIES TO MAN

Golden Text: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. Leviticus 19:18. Lesson: Exodus 20:12-21. Devotional Reading: Proverbs 3:1-7.

Explanations and Comments

The Law of Filial Piety, verse 12.—Thou shalt honor—love and respect thy father and thy mother. This is the first commandment with promise, Eph. 6:2: "that thy days may be long in the land which Jehovah thy God giveth thee." The promise coupled with this command, in common with almost all the promises made to the ancient people of God, applies rather to the nation than to the individual. The people among whom the sacredness of the family ideal is maintained, whose children render obedience to their parents during the time of immaturity, and always honor them, will be the nation of strength, retaining its hold upon its own possessions, and abiding."

"The parent who does not secure the allegiance and obedience of the child is as really violating the fifth commandment as the child who disobeys and disobeys him" (Wm. M. Taylor).

Milner's Worm Powders were devised to promptly relieve children who suffer from the ravages of worms. It is a simple preparation to destroy stomach and intestinal worms without shock or injury to the most sensitive system. They act thoroughly and painlessly, and though in some cases they may cause vomiting, this is an indication of their powerful action and not of any nauseating property.

Empire First Campaign

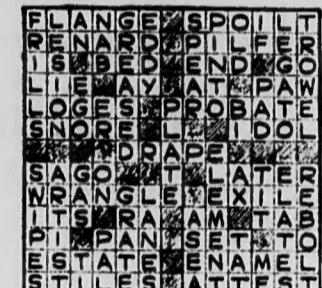

Should Be Taken Advantage Of By Canadian Shippers

Canadian shippers to Great Britain should take advantage of the Empire First Campaign being conducted by the British Government to have British consumers choose empire goods in preference to foreign products, and should mark all their goods with a label bearing the legend "Empire Goods—Canadian," according to J. Forsyth Smith, fruit specialist of the Canadian trade commissioner's service, Liverpool, Eng., and fruit representative for the imperial economic committee.

Requires Some Work

It takes 150,000 bees a full working day to gather and prepare a pound of honey which retails for a few cents. Canadian honey is now sold in regulated grades, and it is finding ready sale in Europe and elsewhere, where the excellent flavor and grading is being recognized.

Answer to Last Week's Puzzle

New French War Device

British Air Officials Interested In Pilotless Air Ram

A pilotless, radio-controlled air ram is said to be the latest deadly weapon which France is preparing to use against her enemies in the future. This steel-nosed aeroplane is said to have been demonstrated successfully at Querqueville, near Cherbourg, and to have given promise that it might in time of war, dash straight at a formation of enemy airmen wreaking havoc on their planes. British air service officials are intensely interested in the reports of the new death dealing device, for they realize that if it is perfected it will play havoc with close formation flying, the backbone of the British air tactics. The new manless plane is said to be so made that it can be directed either by radio from the ground or from the cockpit of an accompanying plane. Observers claim that they have seen the pilotless "ram" loop the loops and go through nearly all the stunt tactics of which a piloted ship is capable.

Predicts Early Fall

Early arrival of cool fall weather is predicted by Prof. Gayle B. Picknell, ornithologist at Northwestern University, from the congregating of purple martins near the campus. Shortly, he said, the birds will start on their southward flight and autumn will come with their leaving.

Strange, Romantic Love Adventures of the Flapper you know

Joanna

Still, fight with herself as much as she might, nothing seemed to matter so much as John. She had intended to spend the rest of the night packing her new things and her old, for she had no idea of sleep. There'd be lots of time for sleep when she was thoroughly convinced she wasn't asleep and dreaming anyway. She had wanted just to pack and talk to Georgie through the night and shape vague things that she planned to do for her into a definite program. This last idea Georgie dismissed at once with a practical, "Wait until you know where you're at. I'll take my fun reporting about you to old Good Morning. I always did want to land that bird. Now that you're gone, maybe I'll get a chance." Joanna agreed that this wouldn't be a bad idea, and Georgie concluded: "Then when I've got him watch me double cross him! That is, maybe I will and maybe I won't. Who knows? He's not such a bad bird at that!"

Joanna was not in the mood to discuss Mr. Good Morning or even Kennethworth, who had ordered her to call him "Roddy" without further ado, or Yvonne, whose career from Cairo to London and America was as well known to Georgie as any other avid reader of the Sunday press, or Brandon's insistent and sinister probing of her. Instead, she cross-examined Georgie patiently about John.

With little success. Georgie was detached, her roving eyes engaging her attention with ever new splendor creeling out in the sheen or the trim or the drape of one of the new things hanging about the room. "He said he wanted to see you and square the deal, and that he'd hunt you up tomorrow," was all that Georgie would vouchsafe.

With the morning Joanna had decided. She sent to John a brief little note that cost her an hour. She wanted him—as always and as usual. Everything was all right. They wouldn't talk about that night when he accused her. But he must come to her—at Yvonne's! This dispensed to John's workroom in the offices of the firm where he was working up to his career, she went to the bank.

The uniformed doorman remembered her. In his manner there was none of the subterfuge with which he would have met any other of the bank's customers, even the most important, at the announcement that it was the Chairman of the Board himself whom the caller wished to see. He led Joanna directly through the marbled corridors, past the railings shutting in vice-presidents, cashier and other important functionaries, from whom the girl caught glances of interest. It seemed as if the entire institution was alert to her.

Eggerton rose to receive her. Again she saw a great gentleness beneath the grave, austere exterior of this man whose harshness was a tradition that even shop girls knew. In his presence she trembled at her own audacity in coming to speak to him of her little matters.

"But you may always come to me—at any time," the banker assured her patiently.

"I have made up my mind what to do," she told him when she had sought some other opening and failed to find it. "It isn't very much, just that I have found a great friend who will show me how—I mean who will help me."

Brandon drew her to him, until she stood quite close. It was the prelude to a kiss.

"You have the most disconcerting way of not finishing what you start to say," Eggerton protested. He spoke shortly, with none of the softness in his voice that had been there a moment before. Joanna realized that she could practice no evasions with the great man.

"I think I meant to say someone who will show me how to enjoy my money," she said uneasily. "You see, you nor Mr. Graydon nor Mr. Brandon will give me any advice. I don't know what to do. I feel there is so much I could do and should do. I tried to win a prize one time by thinking what I'd do if I had a thousand dollars. I knew all sort of things. I think I built hospitals and started schools for girls to learn how to be Mary Pickfords, and even then I didn't win the prize. Now that I've all that you say is in the bank for me, I can't really think of a thing. I guess I want a little fun too badly. So I'm going to learn from one who knows."

"Just a little fun, as you call it. But you can buy a lot of pleasure with the money you have. Won't it pall on you after a while?"

"Perhaps. I don't know. I'm a little bit afraid I don't know much of anything, you see. So I want to learn. It's a lot of responsibility somebody has put onto my shoulders, isn't it?"

For a time he didn't answer. When he did he asked her abruptly, "Who is your confidante going to be?"

"I don't suppose you know her. Miss Coutant, Yvonne Coutant. She's very famous, you know, and has heaps of money of her own. Men are always in love with her. She's thrilling."

Again he was silent, and then Joanna thought there was something cold in his voice. "Yes, I know of her. I fancy almost everyone does. Let's see—is she divorced now or married?"

"Divorced. But that doesn't make any difference, does it?"

"Not the slightest." He spoke briefly. She was sure now that he had gone cold. She decided not to dwell after all upon her plans. She spoke of John.

"Your friend and mine, Graydon, was deeply concerned by your report of the young man's misunderstanding. He gave me to believe also that you were disturbed by that circumstance. As your banker I took it upon myself to protect your interests—even if those interests were at the moment a mere young man. If I offended I am sorry. You are a valuable patron of the bank. I would not offend you."

"But I wanted to tell you how happy it made me!" Joanna exclaimed. The sudden change in him distressed her. He had gone far away from her, and she had always sensed him as very close, very close to her in some unfathomable way. "I would not take the money—none of it if it should cost me the thing I want John to think of me!"

She was gazing at him too earnestly not to see. His hardness vanished from his face and his eyes as gently as the passing of a shadow. His fingers reached out for the jade paperweight and toyed with it, as she had observed him do during her first visit to him. When he spoke again it was as if she were not there, as if he spoke to a memory: "Yes, there are times when money doesn't count. So long as youth knows this everything's all right."

Joanna nodded to him quietly, silently. At that moment she understood that something had gone from one to the other of them. But she couldn't for the life of her explain what.

In a moment she was telling him about John—of their schooldays and of their coming together again in the city when she was "on her own," and he, with neither fortune nor chance, began to build for his career; of her hope in him and of their plans, plans that had all gone awry.

"But have they?" Eggerton interrupted. "Doesn't he figure some way in your prospects?"

Joanna considered. "Yes," she admitted. "But I don't know how—yet I don't think I'd make him happy just yet. There's a lot for him to learn, as there is for me." Then she added brightly: "But I'll figure it all out somehow. And now may I have some more of my money? I'm going to begin to spend, you know."

"Eczema broke out in very small blisters on the backs of my fingers. After a few days the blisters would break and then dry up. It itched and burned terribly and scratching caused very red eruptions. I could not put my hands in water or do any work without wearing rubber gloves. I could not sleep nights on account of the irritation, and was in agony most of the time. The trouble lasted about a year."

The Firemen's Coffee Stall

Van Accompanies London Force To All Large Fires

In London, England, the equipment of the firemen is usually followed to a fire by a green motor van. This is the London firemen's coffee stall. It attends all fires that are likely to prove "long jobs," and does invaluable work in supplying snack meals to the men, who would otherwise be forced to spend hours without food or drink. The van holds three twenty-gallon urns, two filled with boiling water and one containing cocoa. A large cupboard on one side of the van contains numerous tins of biscuits and large mugs. The other side is on a hinge and can be supported to make a shelter for the men when they refresh themselves at the improvised counter. The cook rides inside the van and is assisted by the driver in dispensing the food. The van, which started as a horse-drawn vehicle, will shortly celebrate its twenty-fifth birthday.

Mentally Deficient In China

1,341,600 Lunatics and No Government Hospitals For Their Care

There are 1,341,600 lunatics in China, according to a compilation just made based on replies to questionnaires sent to 260 physicians. There are no government hospitals for their care and only private or mission institutions.

The mentally deficient in China receive no money and are sure to suffer for the death penalty for the commonest offence, stealing. In one part of China the mentally sick are taken into the country and pinned down beneath a heavy stone, placed on the chest. If this fails to restore sanity the victim is allowed to die of starvation.

Growth of Automobile Industry

May Be Some Time Yet Before the Saturation Point is Reached

Professor C. E. Griffin, of the Business Administration School of the University of Michigan, estimates that 27,000,000 automobiles will be in use in the United States by 1930. He is a recognized authority on the automobile industry.

"Although any ventured estimate cannot be absolutely accurate," Professor Griffin said, "it is certainly possible to say that should this be the saturation point the automobile industry would not stop. The present output of 4,000,000 cars each year would be necessary at this point merely to supply worn-out cars."

Little Helps For This Week

O Thou that hearest prayer, unto Thee shall all flesh come.—Ps. lxxv, 2.

If there be better, and the dream of it, The longing for it, shows that there must be.

It is not in ourselves; it is the God, Beyond, whom our souls seek; the search of prayer.

More life we ask of Him who is the Life;

The reason why we pray is this, we must.

—Lucy Larcom.

Prayer is the measure of love.—Saint Augustine.

Prayer, administering the perpetual lesson of humility, of hope, of love, makes us feel our connection with Heaven through every touch of our necessities; it binds us to Providence by a chain of daily benefits; it impresses the heart of all with a perpetual remembrance of the God of all.

—George Croly.

English Families Making Good Under Overseas Settlement Plan

"The great majority of English families settled on Canadian farms under the overseas settlement scheme are making good." This was the statement of the Earl of Clarendon, parliamentary secretary of the overseas settlement committee who was in Vancouver in the course of a tour of Canada during which he is endeavoring to visit as many of the English settlers as possible.

SUMMER HEAT HARD ON BABY

No season of the year is so dangerous to the life of little ones as is the summer. The excessive heat throws the little stomach out of order so quickly that unless prompt aid is at hand, the baby may be beyond all human help before the mother realizes he is ill. Summer is the season when diarrhoea, cholera infantum, dysentery and colic are most prevalent. Any of these troubles may prove deadly if not promptly treated. During the summer the mothers' best friend is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach and keep baby healthy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

DRAGGING-DOWN PAINS RELIEVED

Woman Suffered Nearly a Year. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Her Health

Moose Jaw, Sask.—"I am going to try to tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered very badly with dragging-down pains and inflammations, also pains in my right side over my hip and down my whole side into my leg. I had it nearly a year when I went to a doctor and he said I would have to have an operation. But my mother said to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it saved her life years before. I took two bottles and I found I was better, so I kept on taking it and also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I have had two more children since then and am perfectly well. I used to have to lie down two or three times a day, and now I do all my housework without trouble. I always keep the Vegetable Compound in the house as I find a dose now and then helps me. I am willing for you to use this letter any way you see fit and I will answer letters. If I can help any other woman I'd be only too glad to try."—Mrs. ESTHER HOUGHTON, 712 Athabasca W., Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women.

H. E. Roppel, pastor

The hymn "Abide with me," is the sermon subject for next Sunday evening. This hymn has been sung as an evening prayer at the close of many a day and indeed also at the close of many a Christian life. It was composed in 1847 by Rev. H. F. Lytton in the late hours of one Sabbath evening which soon also proved to be the evening of his life. Sunday evening will bring this series of Hymn sermons to a close.

Notice—Special attention will be given next Sunday morning in the sermon and throughout the service to and in honor of the elderly class of our worshippers. Prov. 16:31, "The hoary head is a crown of glory," if it be found in the way of righteousness will be the sermon text. Young and old are especially invited.

The Evangelical Sunday school at Westcott had a very successful picnic last Tuesday. The day was ideal and the sports were lively and too numerous to mention. They climaxed in a nail driving contest by the ladies for which the winners were awarded with a very special prize from two of the popular young men. Much laughter followed. For further particulars inquire.

We say good-bye from time to time to quite a number of young folks who leave our town and community for positions in life elsewhere. Soon another group will be leaving for Normal school, college, etc. They leave quite a gap in our church ranks but we wish them rich blessing and absolute success in their new locations. But there are also some new comers arriving here from time to time. We bid them welcome to our church where we are sure every one will soon feel at home.

Mr. P. D. Liesemer, a hardware merchant in Mildmay, Ont., who is a brother of the Liesemer merchants here, also a brother of Mrs. J. V. Berscht, is visiting here at present, after which he will continue his trip to the coast.

KNOX UNITED CHURCH.

A representative congregation attended Knox church last Sunday evening. The minister based his theme on Luke 4 and at the close of the sermon asked those present to reread that chapter during the coming week. It contains the most outstanding program for betterment that the world has ever seen. This Sunday evening Mr. Hayes will take up the subject further and attempt to show what a practical business is the Christian's program.

The minister is attending the School of religion held in Calgary this week, and is taking the devotional services of the opening session.

Goldwin Liesemer has decided not to renew his engagement as principal of the high school, but will instead take a course at the University of California. Mr. Liesemer has been connected with our schools here now for five or six years, and whilst his decision not to re-engage for a further term will occasion a certain amount of regret on the part of his friends, nevertheless there will be many good wishes accompany him south, and his career there will be watched with more than the usual interest.
